

Hot off the Press 35!

Members recommend.....

sculpture exhibition

Erwin Wurm: Trap of the Truth

We would like to highlight a brilliant sculpture exhibition by the Austrian artist Erwin Wurm at YSP in West Bretton, that Ellen (WGC member) really enjoyed.

<https://ysp.org.uk/whats-on/exhibitions/erwin-wurm>

FILM: "Persian Lessons"

It's available on IPlayer for a year.

A young Jewish man pretends to be Iranian to avoid being executed in a concentration camp.

Nazi-occupied France, 1942. Having escaped death by the skin of his teeth by claiming to be half-Persian, Gilles, a Jewish man from Belgium, is spared so that he can teach Persian to Klaus Koch, a mid-grade SS officer in charge of the concentration camp's kitchen. In reality, lucky Gilles doesn't speak a word of Persian, and to save himself from certain death, he must fabricate an entire language of convincing gibberish without raising suspicion. Now, Gilles' life is hanging by a thread, and one small mistake can blow his cover. Will the lie that has just saved Gilles bring about his downfall.

